Digital collaborators developing a digital classroom approach of connected learning

Andrew Middleton and Uwe Richter

Anglia Learning & Teaching

1 hour workshop

a.r.u.

Session outline

Aims

- Explore the idea of the digital classroom as a hub of connectivity

- Co-create a Digital Active Classroom Campaign Toolkit

We'll,

- share what we think, know, do, and aspire to do

- clarify what 'active learning' means

- consider 'the digital classroom' and ideas like blended, connected and hybrid learning

- conclude what these ideas mean in practice

a.r.u.

The Connected Classroom

Spaces

Context

'Real world'

Learning Activity

Place

Hybridity

Ideas

People

Situation

Co-Production

Technologies

Media

Co-Creation

"The Hub of Connectivity"

Some types of Active Learning

Active Learning
'isms' and 'bases'

Enquiry-based learning

Problem-based learning

Project-based learning

Simulated learning

Team-based learning

Situated Learning

Authentic Learning

Connectivism

Constructionism and Constructivism

Transformative Learning

etc

a.r.u.

Active Learning
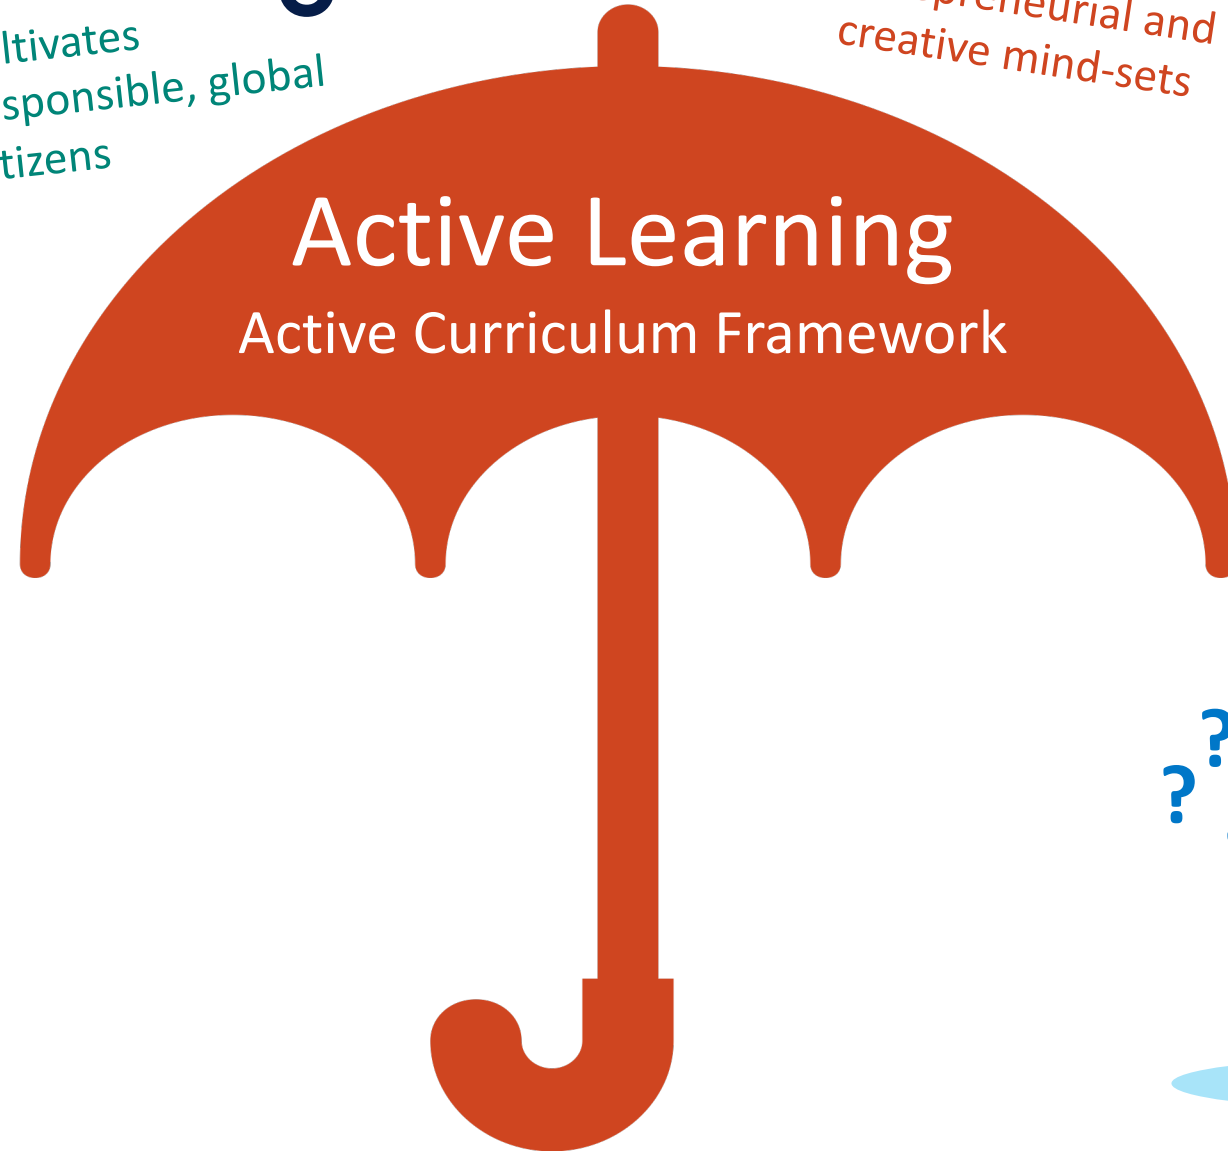

stimulates intellectual curiosity

cultivates responsible, global citizens

entrepreneurial and creative mind-sets builds confident, critical users of information resources and digital technologies.

gain, sustain and progress in graduate employment

Active Learning
Active Curriculum Framework

gain, sustain and progress in graduate employment

contributing positively to society and [their] communities

a.r.u.

Hybrid, Blended or Connected what are we getting at?

From fortress...

...to intersections

Feudal system...
Constellations and rhizomes

a.r.u.

Active Learning the digital-active classroom

Technology enhanced learning and teaching

Students as partners and co-creators

Intellectually stimulating and challenging

Creative and applied learning

What's it mean in practice?

Connected lifewide learning co- and extra curricula

Authentic and engaging Assessment

Work-Related Learning

Inspiring research and inquiry-based learning

Our Digital Active Classroom Campaign

Construct a campaign with reference to:

- Physical-digital hybrid or blended learning space

- The Hub of Connectivity - connected learning

- The 8 dimensions of the Active Curriculum Framework

Inspire!!! Lead!!

a.r.u.

Get Active!
Get Digital!

In pairs

A Manifesto!

Include 10 inspiring proclamations!

(25 minutes)

First on your own:

5 Campaign slogans on Post-Its!

(5 minutes)

Campaign appeal

A video message to convince colleagues to Get Active! Get Digital!

10 Top Tips

A podcast discussion lasting less than 5 minutes

First steps...

5 Digital Active Classroom approaches everyone should try....

Inspire! !! Lead!!

What else..?

Can you add to the campaign toolkit?

a.r.u.

Gallery

- Share you work